

Lone survivor of TN chopper crash to be shifted to Bengaluru for higher treatment

COIMBATORE/BHOPAL, DEC 9 /--/ The lone survivor in the IAF helicopter crash that killed Chief of Defence Staff, General Bipin Rawat and 12 others, and admitted to a hospital at Wellington in the Nilgiris district in Tamil Nadu, was being shifted to Bengaluru for higher treatment, his family and official sources said on Thursday.

IAF Group Captain Varun Singh was being shifted to Bengaluru from the Army hospital at Wellington in Tamil Nadu, his father said.

Official sources in Coimbatore also maintained the officer will be shifted to Bengaluru. His condition is said to be critical but stable and Singh had undergone three operations so far, they added. Meanwhile, talking to news agency PTI over phone, the Group Captain's father Colonel K P Singh (retired), who is a resident of Bhopal, said: "He is being shifted to Bengaluru. I have reached Wellington." Asked about his son's condition, he said, "I can't say anything about that...I am not sure."

Lt Colonel Ishan R (retired), who lives next door to Col K P Singh's residence at Sun City on the Airport Road in the Madhya Pradesh capital, said he was hopeful the injured officer will recover.

He said Col K P Singh and his wife Uma were in Mumbai at the place of their younger son Tanuj, who is a Lt Commander in the Navy, when they received information about the unfortunate incident on Wednesday. "I spoke to Colonel K P Singh this morning.

He said his son was a fighter and will come out victorious (from the tragedy)," he said. He retired Colonel recalled that Group Captain Varun Singh had earlier survived a life-threatening emergency while flying a Tejas aircraft during a test sortie last year. For his bravery, he was awarded the Shaurya Chakra this year.

Defence minister Rajnath Singh on Thursday told Parliament that a tri-services inquiry led by Air Marshal Manavendra Singh has started investigation into the helicopter crash that killed India's first Chief of Defence Staff Gen Rawat, his wife and 11 others. (PTI)

Gen Rawat had a bond with people of Baramulla: Army's Chinar Corps

SRINAGAR, DEC 9 /--/ People of Baramulla in north Kashmir have lost more than anyone else in chief of defence staff General Bipin Rawat's death as he had close connection with them and loved them, general officer commanding of the Army's Chinar Corps, Lt Gen D P Pandey said on Thursday.

Speaking to reporters at Baramulla after paying tributes to Gen Rawat who was GoC Dagger Division in Baramulla the GoC said it will take a lot of time for us to come out of this grief. "I do not think I have seen the amount of love, connect which he (Rawat) had with the people of Uri and Baramulla and with the people of whole Kashmir.

If you see the dp (display picture on social media accounts) especially of the media-men, I think everyone has a picture with him, Lt Gen Pandey said. He said Gen Rawat used to attend phone calls from everyone from Baramulla. He (Rawat) would listen to their requirements and then he would call me and ask me to listen to their demands and help them. I am sure the people of Baramulla have lost more than anyone else, he said.

Describing the death of CDS and others in the helicopter crash as a huge tragedy, the GoC said it will take a lot of time to come out of the grief. I really wanted to come here to Baramulla where he was a GoC. Though he was also the commander of 5 Sector (RR), the two tenures were close to his heart especially because of the people. I am sure you all must be feeling this loss like the Indian Army. Armed forces and the whole country is feeling. His wife and others were also killed and this is a huge tragedy and it will take a lot of time for us to come out of this grief, he said. (PTI)

Speaker gives priority to woman MPs to raise issues in Zero Hour, draws praise

NEW DELHI, DEC 9 /--/ Speaker Om Birla on Thursday drew praise from Lok Sabha members for identifying potential of members and encouraging them to speak on the floor of the House after a first-time woman MP, known for spearheading self-help groups, raised the issue of women unemployment.

BJD MP Pramila Bisoyi (73), who speaks only her mother tongue Odia, raised the issue of women employment following the Covid-19 outbreak. Bisoyi said many women who lost employment were unable to get jobs back and were confined to working at their homes or farms while men have been reemployed. She spoke in Odia and her party colleague Bhartuhari Mahtab shared the crux of the matter she raised during the Zero Hour. Asked about her educational qualification, Mahtab said it is not much but noted that she is spearheading many self-help groups. The Lok Sabha website said the Aska MP has studied till primary classes.

This is India's democracy, Birla said, noting that he personally urged her to speak in the House. She told him that she only speaks Odia, he said, adding that her secretariat then helped her. "Now she makes request for speaking in the House regularly. This is India's democracy," the Speaker said, noting she has given employment to a large number of women. Union minister Arjun Ram Meghwal rose to praise the Chair for identifying her potential. Many other members also thumped their desks to laud it. Birla on Thursday also allowed all woman members who wanted to speak during the Zero Hour to raise their issues. "There is a matter of 33 per cent reservation (for women). Therefore today is an opportunity for woman members to speak," he said lightly.

Earlier, DMK member Kanimozhi raised the issue of reservation for women in Parliament, noting that the issue has been discussed for long but in vain so far. Birla has taken measures to ensure that maximum MPs raise their issues in every session. His office said 402 members have so far spoken during the six spells of Zero Hour during the ongoing Winter session. Lok Sabha has the strength of 543 members. (PTI)

Oppn suspends dharna, condemns Govt for disallowing them from paying tributes to Gen Rawat inside RS

NEW DELHI, DEC 9 /--/ Opposition parties on Thursday suspended their dharna against the suspension of 12 Rajya Sabha MPs at the Mahatma Gandhi statue inside the Parliament complex in view of the death of Chief of Defence Staff Gen Bipin Rawat and 12 others in a chopper crash a day back.

Leaders of the parties condemned the government for not allowing them to pay tributes to the top-most defence officer in the country inside Parliament after defence minister Rajnath Singh's statement about the incident. The Trinamool Congress also staged a walk-out in the Rajya Sabha in protest as its MPs were not allowed to speak and pay tributes to Gen Rawat in the House. A number of Opposition MPs in the Rajya Sabha had boycotted the House proceedings and were sitting on a dharna in front of the Gandhi statue inside the Parliament complex in support of the suspended members. Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge said they wanted to convey their condolences over the tragic incident but were not allowed to do so in the Upper House, for which they condemned the government's attitude.

"We have decided to suspend our protest in front of the Gandhi statue in view of the tragic incident in Tamil Nadu and in honour of Gen Bipin Rawat and his wife and 11 other soldiers who lost their lives," Kharge told newsmen. The Congress leader later said Opposition leaders had demanded that they be allowed to pay tributes to Gen Rawat after the defence minister's statement, but it is unfortunate that they were refused. "We condemn the government for such an attitude. May God grant some wisdom to the government. What kind of democracy is there and how the House is being run when time is not being given to leaders to pay tributes to the top-most defence officer," he said. Kharge also prayed for the speedy recovery of the lone survivor of the crash that took place near Coonoor in Tamil Nadu. DMK leader T K Elangovan said this government thinks that the House is being run for them and not for Opposition parties.

"This government thinks that the Parliament is only for their use and not for opposition parties. This is a sad thing," he said, conveying his condolences to the families of all those who died. RJD's Manoj Jha said the Opposition leaders decided not to sit on the dharna and wanted to convey their condolences. He said the government could have utilised this opportunity to convey a collective message on such an unfortunate incident.

"I feel the government has committed a big mistake. ...It is working with 'my way or highway' attitude. Please do not see politics on such occasions," he said. (PTI)

Ensure adequate stock of drugs used for treatment of Covid: Centre to states

NEW DELHI, DEC 9 /--/ The Union government on Thursday asked states and Union Territories to ensure adequate buffer stock of the eight critical drugs used for clinical treatment of COVID-19 and advised them to review the readiness of hospitals to deal with any possible surge in cases.

Reviewing the public health preparedness for the Omicron variant and the progress of vaccination via video conference, Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan urged the health Secretaries and NHM MDS of states and UTs to ensure that all health facilities have functional ventilators, PSA plants and oxygen concentrators.

"States were informed that many ventilators supplied by the Centre are still lying unpacked and unused at some field hospitals, with consumables not being procured and made available by the states.

"This needs to be reviewed immediately to ensure that all PSA oxygen plants, Oxygen concentrators and ventilators are installed and are functioning," a health ministry statement said. The five-fold strategy of test-track-treat-vaccinate-adherence to Covid-appropriate behaviour was highlighted as the mainstay of public health response strategy for effective and timely control and management of Covid-19 and its variants.

States and Union Territories were told to enhance testing and focus on surveillance to ensure early identification of suspected cases for their prompt isolation and further clinical management.

They were advised to ensure the availability of RT-PCR testing in all districts, the statement said. "Districts reporting higher case positivity were alerted to monitor the case trajectory regularly, and to promptly dispatch positive samples to the mapped INSACOG labs for genomic sequencing," it said.

Close monitoring of emerging hotspots/clusters, breakthrough and re-infection cases, and prompt investigation was discussed. It was re-emphasised that all contacts for positive patients are to be traced and tested according to protocol as quickly as possible, the statement said.

Based on the information of travellers from 'at-risk' countries from the Air Suvidha portal, district-wise monitoring of international passengers who have tested negative on arrival with a focus on symptomatic cases was highlighted in the meeting.

Keeping the winter season in mind, they were advised that the prevalence of influenza-like illness, severe acute respiratory infection and respiratory distress symptoms need to be closely monitored, the statement said. To ensure that all hospital infrastructure is ready for any possible surge in cases, states and UTs were advised to review their readiness for providing quality medical care.

As the progress of the fund utilisation at the field level is being reviewed by the health ministry, information on the progress of this matter needs to be filled in the portal created for the purpose.

It needs to be ensured that all health facilities at the field level have functional ventilators, PSA plants, oxygen concentrators, the statement said. The health secretary also urged the states to ensure to maintain adequate buffer stock for the eight critical drugs identified for the clinical treatment of Covid-19.

The Guidelines for these were shared with them in July. (PTI)

Protest sites were like home, will be lifelong memory: Farmers

NEW DELHI, DEC 9 /--/ After spending over a year agitating against the three farm laws at three Delhi border points, many farmers became nostalgic as Samkyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM) announced that thousands of protestors would start vacating the protest sites from December 11.

Amrik Singh, aged around 65, from Patiala said he felt at home in his tent at Singhu border and thought of the possibility of leaving it with a heavy heart. "I don't feel like leaving it all behind and all those memories of struggle, moments of joy and friendships we have formed," he said. "It often occurs to me that I should rent a house here if the protest ends," Singh added in a lighter vein. Riding hundreds of tractors and other vehicles, farmers from Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh in the last week of November 2020 moved towards Delhi demanding repeal of three farm laws of the Narendra Modi government.

Since November 26 last year, the farmers have laid siege at highways as Delhi's border points at Singhi, Ghazipur and Tikari setting up makeshift accommodation and arrangements of daily life. Saudagar Singh, a middle-aged farmer from Ludhiana, reminisced his struggles during the year-long protests, narrating the bonds he forged and how many new friends he found at the protest site. "We thought the government will not listen to us and we will have to stay here. But finally we won and farm laws are gone. Now it's time to go home and we are feeling awkward now," he said.

Preparing to go home, many farmer protesters said that they will dispose of items of daily use and back carrying their personal belongings and vehicles. "There is not much to take back home. Most of it will be given to local people many of whom are regular visitors for us," Saudagar Singh said. With the Centre repealing the three farm laws and accepting most of their demands, many protesters felt it was time to end the stir and go back home. Most felt their experience of protest at Singhu Border will be a lifelong memory and they will miss the place. "We have demand a memorial for our farmer brothers who died during the protest. Once the memorial comes up here, we will visit this place again and again," said another protester Harkeerat at Singhu border. The farmer unions claim over 700 farmers died at different places during the year long agitation against farm laws. The leaders of SKM were holding a meeting at Singhu border to consider the Centre's written assurance to their other demands including withdrawal of police cases and compensation to kin of farmers died during the protests, before taking a call to end their stir.

There were many protesters who were ready to stay at protest venue for many more days to come if their leaders wished so. "We have all the arrangements here. Also, we take turns to visit our home and come back again to join the protest. If needed, we can stay year for months and years," said Kamalapati Baghi from Ayodhya. A young protester Balpreet Singh from Pathegarh Sahib said the protest might end but the struggles over pending issues of farmers will continue.

"We gave them (Centre) an example of our resolve and hope they will listen to us more seriously now and meet our other demands including legal guarantee of MSP of crops," he said. The SKM, an umbrella body of 40 farm unions, on Thursday decided to suspend the farmers' movement and announced that farmers will go back home on December 11 from the protest sites on Delhi's borders. Farmer leaders said that they will again meet on January 15 to see if the government has fulfilled their demands. (PTI)
